NEIGHBORS HELPING NEIGHBORS

Each summer, action starts with you.

Each summer, United Way of 1000 Lakes mobilizes 100+ volunteers for a countywide day of hands-on service – centered in Calumet this year – and we need you to make it happen.

Volunteers from across Itasca County come together in one community to complete meaningful projects that strengthen neighborhoods, support residents, and improve public spaces. From paintbrushes and power tools to shovels and garden gloves, every task depends on neighbors willing to step forward. United Way serves as convener and coordinator – identifying local priorities, securing partnerships, and mobilizing volunteers to get the work done.

Projects may include:

- Painting and light improvements
- Landscaping and beautification
- General home maintenance for local residents
- Green space improvements

Whether you give a few hours or the full day, your time creates lasting impact – helping neighbors live safely, comfortably, and proudly in their community.

Step up. Pitch in. Be part of the impact.

WAYS TO GET INVOLVED

Lend a Hand.

With a variety of projects to choose from, there's a place for everyone to pitch in—whether you come solo or bring your family, friends, coworkers, or teammates along. All kinds of skills are welcome!

Volunteers receive a Day of Action t-shirt, lunch, and the satisfaction of making a visible difference.

Know Someone Who Could Use a Hand?

We're also seeking project ideas. If you or someone you know could use extra help with home or small business maintenance, we want to hear from you.

If located within the Day of Action project area, help can be requested at: uwlakes.org/day-of-action/#gethelp
